Concert

The Concert stainless steel kitchen, designed by Knud Holscher and produced by Ifö, is based upon the combination of a few, principal forms. The design spans from the very simple work sink to the multifunctional, doublebasin sink, equipped with place for the sorting of rubbish and a labour area for the preparation of meals.

There are 19 combinations in all, including many accessories, such as cutting board, colander, dish-drying rack and dish-drying tray. The design is of the highest functional and aesthetic resolve.
