Sign Art/Washbasin

Sign Art is a wide series of sanitary products in porcelain, that replaces the former IFÖ series Cera, and CeraNova.

The characteristics of all washbasins in the series is the 'half moon'-shaped cut in the horizontal plane. The depth of the basin is lowered compared to traditional washbasins; Today, the primary use of a washbasin is washing hands and brushing teeth, compared to former days, where a deep basin was needed for washing clothes and the body.

The asymmetric area around the faucet is lowered to emphasize the difference between the wet -, and dry area.
