

The Danish Museum of Decorative Arts

Graphic Design

Signage system

KHD was appointed by The Danish Museum of Decorative Arts to develop a signage system for both internal and external use in the museum.

The task included the graphic design for these signs.

The signage had to provide good guidance for the public, had to be clear as well as provide a way of mounting that would not disturb the wall of this preserved building.

KHD made as well the design for leaflets and tickets.

Client: The Danish Museum of Decorative Arts

Product: Signage system + graphic design