

Milewide

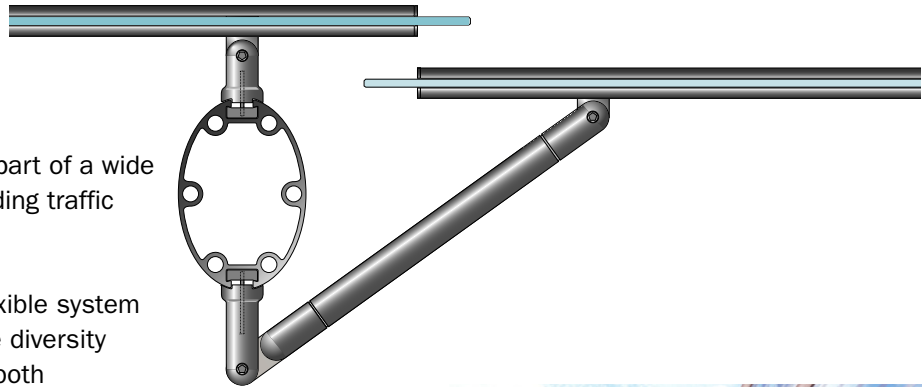

Sound screening

Milewide - this sound screen is part of a wide range of road accessories including traffic lights, signs and bus shelters.

The sound screen is a highly flexible system which can be employed in a true diversity of road situations and adapted both horizontally and vertically.

It is composed of specially developed, extruded aluminium profiles elliptical in cross-section and aluminium connectors.

The panels are made of transparent polycarbonate/glass or a sound absorbing, non-transparent material. The panels are supplied with a pattern of horizontal stripes which was developed jointly with ornithologists.
