Street furniture

Milewide is a system of street furniture in cast iron, including benches, tables, plantbowls, dustbins and bollards. The elements can be used at pull-ins along motorways as well as in urban surroundings.

The bollards can be supplied with built-in sidelights or reflexes.

The tabletop consists of a cast iron frame with an inlay of wood strips and a cast iron grate in the middle. The benches are also composed of cast iron and wood.

The elements are available with untreated (oil-treated) or laquered surface.
